HOW DOES CBD FLOWER WORK?

Cannabis plants contains different amounts of cannabinoids (substances inside the plant), of delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), and cannabidiol (CBD). There are over 100 cannabinoids that can affect us and each body responds differently to these cannabinoids. Individuals may use cannabinoids to help with the following ailments: cancer treatment, pain management, nausea relief, anxiety reduction, PTSD support, improved sleep, appetite stimulation, glaucoma care, multiple sclerosis (MS) management, epilepsy treatment, irritable bowel syndrome (IBS) relief, and more.

The endocannabinoid system regulates and balances key body functions including the following: energy, appetite, blood pressure, pain, nausea, memory, digestion, mood, inflammation, metabolism, reproductive system, learning, and immune response. CBD and THC interact with the endocannabinoid system, but CBD lacks the psychoactive effects found in THC. Patients report an uplifted, calming, relaxed, euphoric feeling in the body and minimal impacts on the mind when ingesting a cannabis product that contains CBD and THC. Come by our store today and learn more about Sour Chem D, Acapulco Gold, and Soul Doctor with a total CBD content up to 15.275% and total cannabinoids up to 25.47%.
